Audit report interim, says AIIMS chief

Kejriwal calls for end to row

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, June 26

THE APEX COURT audit on Delhi's oxygen demand is an interim report and not the final word, AIIMS director Randeep Guleria said on Saturday, as chief minister Arvind Kejriwal, under fire for purportedly exaggerating the city's needs, insisted the acute shortage of oxygen during Covid's second wave was real. He also appealed for an end to political bickering and for everyone to work together so no one suffers in the third wave.

The virus will win if there is a fight among stakeholders, Kejriwal tweeted, a day after his Aam Aadmi Party and the BJP hit out at each each other over the report that said Delhi's oxygen needs were exaggerated four times over during the second Covid wave.

It is an interim report. The oxygen needs are dynamic and change from day to day. The matter is sub-judice - AIIMS

'Important to continue momentum'

EXPRESSING SATISFACTION AT an increased speed of Covid-19 vaccination this week, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Saturday said it is important to carry this momentum forward and also underlined a need to involve NGOs and other organisations in efforts to expand the drive.

Over 3.77 crore Covid vaccine doses have been administered in the last six days, the government said in a statement after a high-level review meeting held by Modi with top officials on the progress of the vaccination drive.

It was noted that 128 districts in the country have vaccinated more than 50% of over 45 years of population and 16 districts have vaccinated more than 90% of this age group.

Modi also directed officials to work with states to ensure that the pace of testing does not go down as testing remains a very important weapon to track and contain rising infections in any region.

Modi underlined the need to involve NGOs and other organisations in the vaccination drive, with officials stating that they are in touch with state governments to explore and implement innovative methods to reach people for vaccination, the PMO said.

During the lockdowns, online gaming has seen a big boom in India

FE BUREAU New Delhi, June 26

LOCKED INSIDE HOUSES and bored, people in India turned to online gaming with a vengeance, giving a fillip to the growth of the sector that is still in its nascent stages in India. The number of mobile game downloads in the country touched a significant 2.9 billion in the July-September period last year from under 2 billion in Q1CY20. From about 250 million gamers at the end of FY18, the number of Indian gamers grew to nearly 400 million by mid-CY20, establishing the country as the "second-largest base of online gamers in the world after China", according to a recent report published by KPMG. Analysts believe the trend is here to stay; though the pace of growth in consumption did fade to a certain extent after cities opened up post the first lockdown, most of the key business metrics like monthly active users (MAUs) still operated at a higher average as compared to the pre-Covid period. In fact, the restrictions imposed to tame the surging second wave may have only aided consumption.

India is estimated to touch 657 million gaming users by FY25. Sectoral revenues are projected to increase to ₹29,000 crore by FY25 from ₹13,600 crore in FY21 led by casual gaming, analysts said. Better accessibility to smartphones and cheap data prices are helping the sector gain broader reach, thereby spurring its growth. "In addition to metros and tier one cities, penetration beyond tier two cities has also started taking place gradually. Further, there are an increasing number of women gamers and the social stigma and resistance to online gaming, specifically casual gaming, is gradually fading away," analysts at KPMG said in the report. Not surprisingly, the theme of localised content is starting to get featured in the gaming playbook as developers look to tap into newer audiences."Most popular games in India like Teen Patti by Octro, Ludo King by Gametion and others provide options to play games in local languages like Hindi, Gujarati, Marathi, etc," say analysts. Besides, there has been an increase in the number of online game developers, specifically in the casual mobile gaming segment in India," they added.

End protest, ready for talks: Tomar

PRESS TRUST OF INDIA New Delhi, June 26

AS FARMERS' PROTEST against the new farm laws entered eighth month, Union agriculture minister Narendra Singh Tomar on Saturday appealed to protesting farmers to end their agitation, saying the government is ready to resume talks on the provisions of three legislations. The government and farmer unions have held 11 rounds of talks so far, the last being on January 22, to break the deadlock and end the farmers' protest. Talks have not resumed following widespread violence during a tractor rally by protesting farmers on January 26.

No interviews for AP govt jobs

MORE THAN 20 months after taking the decision, the Andhra Pradesh government on Saturday issued a formal order dispensing with the process of interviews for all future recruitments into government service, including the executive posts. It was on October 17, 2019 that chief minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy, at a highlevel meeting on recruitments, took the decision to do away with personal interviews for all recruitments through the AP

Public Service Commission. A top official said the new initiative was a "major reform", aimed at improving transparency and reducing subjectivity in all the recruitments in government cadre.
